

TRINITY TIDINGS

FROM THE RECTOR . . .

Dear Friends,

In addition to the annual traditions that are beginning to unfold in preparation for the celebration of the birth of our Savior several other new traditions are being conceived here at Holy Trinity.

A "Men's Club" had sixteen people at its organizational meeting and there is a social gathering planned for January. All men are invited so please keep an eye out for the time and the date. Rumor has it that it will be some sort of pig roast and plenty of socialization and fellowship.

A "Women's Bible Study" is also in the process of organizing and will start meeting in January. This is also something that many have talked about for some time and suddenly appeared two women who were willing to facilitate making it a reality.

A "Strategic Planning Committee" is laying the ground work to put together, with the input of every member of Holy Trinity who would like to participate, a strategic plan for Holy Trinity for the next three to five years. Part of this process will be to review the plan on a periodic basis to incorporate new ideas and to measure the success of accomplishing our dreams. It is hoped that this plan will be presented to the congregation at Easter. In the days ahead please watch for important dates so that you can participate in this effort.

Every year it is exciting to anticipate the coming of the Christ. This year it is especially exciting as this concept of new life expands into ministry and programs to help us share the Good News of Jesus Christ.

May each of you have a blessed Christmas.

Faithfully
Fr. David +

DECEMBER OUTREACH PROGRAM

Our "Angel" gifts will be given to foster children from the Children's Home Society.

There will be two Angel Christmas trees: one in the Parish Hall and the other at the main entrance of the Church. Each "Angel" will have a red number, the child's name, age, and the name of the gift the child wishes to receive. $25. is the limit to be spent on each child. Please note that "Gift Cards" may be substituted for any of the requested gifts.

Please look for instructions posted near each of the trees and fill in the required tracking information which will ask you to match the "Angel" number to the child's name and number on the list, and sign your name in the "Shopper" column.

This year the gifts are to be returned UNWRAPPED with the child's name placed on the front of the gift and brought to either the Church or the Parish Hall by SUNDAY, DECEMBER 18th.

From: The Rev. Charles A. Browning II , Associate Rector

I grew up a skateboarder. I used to wear pants that were way too big for me, a chain attached to my wallet, and my friends and I would loiter and skate around our neighborhood west of downtown Orlando, primarily at our church. I listened to punk rock and was drawn, like many teenagers, to things that made my mom cringe.

I mention this only to say that I have long held an affinity for what might be seen as “counter-cultural.”

And it is this affinity that, in many ways, draws me to Christian faith and practice. There is something counter-cultural about being Christian, after all.

Take, for instance, the Christmas-shopping season. Stores have decided (to much popular derision) that Christmas starts now. Which is why City Place lit its Christmas tree in early November and some radio stations are already playing Christmas music.

We Christians know that Christmas doesn't begin until December 25 and continues for twelve days following. Which also means we know why the song is called “The Twelve Days of Christmas.” Right now, we are in the season of Advent, awaiting Christ's Mass and celebrating the day Salvation entered our world. This time of year is different for us.

It's this sort of thing that satisfies my counter-cultural leanings. I like knowing something that the rest of the world doesn't seem to get. In the oft-mentioned “hustle and bustle” of frenzied shopping, often in a pursuit of capturing something called “the Christmas Spirit,” we Christians can relax a little and soberly remind ourselves that we are in a time of waiting and watching.

For us, it's not Christmas. Not yet.

Sure, we're going to get caught up in the frenzy of buying gifts. And, yes, we're going to sip holiday-themed coffee drinks and listen to the sound of Christmas songs wafting through the air.

But we'll always have our little secret. We'll do all of the above knowing that Christmas is still yet to begin; knowing that December 25 isn't the end of the season, but the beginning.

And then, once the wrapping paper is put away, the toys assembled and the instruction booklets put in drawers (just in case!), we can revel in the Mystery that is God-in-Flesh, singing (with tears, perhaps?) the words: “What Child is this who, laid to rest on Mary's lap, is sleeping? Whom Angels greet with anthems sweet, while shepherds watch are keeping? This, this is Christ the King, Whom shepherds guard and Angels sing; Haste, haste, to bring Him laud, The Babe, the Son of Mary.”

What Have You Heard And Seen This Christmas?

Oh, you say, had I been there at Bethlehem that night I would have seen. I would have understood. I would have known it was the Christ child. Would you? There is one way of knowing:

Ask yourself what you have seen and heard this Christmas Season.

When you watched the 6:00 news did you see chaos and strife, or did you see sheep without a shepherd. When you went out to do your shopping did you see only hordes of people in the stores, or did you notice the worried expressions on some of their faces--worried because they are facing this Christmas without employment or enough money and they don't know how they are going to make ends meet.

What did you hear this Christmas?

Did you hear only the blast of music and carols, or did you hear the silent sighs of the lonely and the bereaved who may be dreading Christmas because it accentuates their loneliness. And in the midst of the sounds of honking horns and people arguing over parking places, did you hear faint sounds of laughter coming from Asbury Church missions projects because you furnished food and toys for families and children.

You see, so often what you see and what you hear is not dependent upon the event but upon you. If you did in fact hear the cry from the lonely, the laughter of poor children, if you saw the sheep without a shepherd, then, and only then, might you have noticed the events that took place in Bethlehem that night. If you lacked that spiritual seeing and hearing then you probably would have been with the 99% who were present but who saw or heard nothing out of the ordinary.

In the end perhaps one of our carols words it best: No ear may hear his coming, but in this world of sin. Where meek souls shall receive him still, the dear Christ enters in.

Amen.

From the desk of Elizabeth Brown,
Director of Christian Education

The season of advent is upon us at Holy Trinity and I pray that each of you are reading your Advent meditation booklet along with your Bible to learn more about this special time of the year. Thank you to all our writers who spent hours reflecting on their scripture of the day and for taking the time to share their thoughts with all of us. This is the first time we have printed our own edition of a devotional Advent booklet and I thank you for sharing your spiritual gifts.

By the time you receive this issue of Trinity Tidings we will be well on our way in the observance of the season of Advent. We begin this time of waiting and expectation—waiting upon the Messiah, expecting God to burst into our lives in dramatic ways. We begin this liturgical season at the same time we start our own real Advent period of expectation at Holy Trinity Church. As a church community we all have expectations, and we all must wait and see how these expectation will be fulfilled.

The founder of the Order of the Holy Cross, James Huntington, used to travel all over the country to preaching missions. Before he arrived, the participating parish would pass out leaflets advertising the event and inviting people to attend. At the bottom of the leaflets was printed, “Expect great things!”

I can't tell you what to expect in the coming year. What we can do is pledge our faithfulness to each other as we serve God together in this place. We can promise to be open and honest in our ministry and life together. What we are called to do is wait patiently upon the Lord and then step boldly into whatever calling we receive. And- expect great things!

Expectations are always high during the Christmas season. We look forward to spending time with family and friends, decorating homes, cooking special foods, sharing traditions, and celebrating the birth of Jesus. When the season ends, we often feel let down and tired. Our list of things left undone seems longer than our list of things done. It helps to put Jesus in the center of the holiday through Advent wreaths and attending church weekly. It helps me to focus on Christmas Eve and the calmness of midnight and the knowledge that Christ has arrived and I enjoy the Peace that brings my family and home.

Christmas brings joy and light to mankind during the darkest month of the year. Though the days are short and the nights are long, children count the days, the weeks, even the months that precede the happy event that brightens the season. The Christmas star remains a reality, God not only loved the world two thousand years ago, He continues to love us in 2011 and beyond.

Peace,
Elizabeth Brown

“The Little Shepherd Boy “

Rehearsals for our Family Christmas Musical, “The Little Shepherd Boy” have been very exciting, with as many as 49 children and adults in attendance. The script features Grand Poppa telling his granddaughters, Sarah and Naomi, the story of the birth of the Christ Child from the perspective of the shepherds who heard the glad tidings from the angels, with a surprise twist from one little shepherd boy. It is set in the time period several decades after the Baby Jesus’ birth. This year we are featuring traditional Christmas hymns and carols with revved-up accompaniment including, “O come, all ye faithful”, “O come, O come, Emmanuel”, “How great our joy”, “O little town of Bethlehem”, “It came upon the midnight clear”, “Angels from the realms of glory”, “The first noel”, “Away in a manger”, “Silent night”, “Hark the herald angels sing”, and “We wish you a merry Christmas”. It has been amazing to observe how quickly the children have learned the many songs. They are truly awesome! We will continue to rehearse on Sunday mornings immediately after the 10 am service in the Choir Suite, with a dress rehearsal on Saturday, December 17th from 9 to noon in the church. “The Little Shepherd Boy” will be presented in the church on the Fourth Sunday of Advent, December 18th, following the 10 am service. It will be repeated on Christmas Eve at the 5 pm Family Service. Come and be a part of this wonderful event!

“The Mystery and the Majesty”

Beginning at 10:30 pm on Christmas Eve, the Partington Bell Choir will ring traditional seasonal favorites and the Holy Trinity Parish Choir, will present music from Joseph M. Martin’s, “The Mystery and the Majesty”, with an orchestra consisting of piano, recorder, violins, viola, cellos, flutes, piccolo, clarinets, oboe, bassoon, percussion and harp! Ron Naroff, a professional woodwind player, will be playing clarinet along with his granddaughter Maddie on flute and his grandson Dylan on violin, both of whom are on Christmas break from Interlochen Arts Academy in Michigan. Bob Davis, who played with the Lawrence Welk Orchestra for 17 years will be playing flute and piccolo. Our double bass player, Dave Tomasello is the strings teacher at Lynn University’s School of Music. Alexandria Warwick will be returning from Florida State to play violin. Also home on Christmas break are Christopher Carl, bassoon, George Washington University; Carly Gordon, oboe, Eastman School of Music; Michael Villar, flute and piccolo, University of Central Florida. Instrumentalists returning from Dreyfus School of the Arts are Arian Shaw Obassogie, viola; Clyde Kelker, cello; Mary Fortino, clarinet; Michelle Villar, harp; and our fabulous percussionist, Kimberly Edelstein. Last but definitely not least, our own wonderfully talented Julian Davies, a graduate of the Royal College of Music in London, will add to the beauty of the evening with his recorder. Returning from college to sing with the Parish Choir will be Aryn Eldridge, Jackie LaLonde, Amanda Tiefenthaler and Canton Winer. What a beautiful evening of music in celebration of the birth of Christ Child! In the words of Joseph M. Martin:

“Each year during the Christmas season we pause to consider the miracle of Christ’s birth. We are swept away by the wonder of it all, thrilled and amazed at the magnificent grace that brought God’s perfect light into our world of darkness. From the grandeur of angelic glories serenading simple shepherds to the whispered prayers of a young mother cradling the Creator of life, the marvel of that night is truly profound. Our music and art reaches out and with every note and brushstroke it can assemble, it expresses these great signs that dazzle the mind and delight the spirit. And yet we must acknowledge that no canvas can capture it and no voice can fully sing its beauty. And now we gather once again to celebrate the “beautiful impossible” of the incarnation. We lift our carols and light the candles of our faith in obedience to the hope that lives within us all. We assemble to decorate our sacred spaces with the music of faith and once again with the angels we proclaim the birth of Jesus. As we worship together may the chapels of our hearts overflow with... the mystery and majesty of Christmas.”

Merry Christmas!
